Colegio FDR is an independent international school for 1500 students grades 3-12. This was a fantastic opportunity to work alongside of the chosen dealership for this new elementary school to reimagine and align the furniture solutions to the school's established pedagogy. The curriculum is based upon the school's mission to empower students to pursue their passion for learning, lead lives of integrity, and create socially responsible solutions. Over the course of two days, we directly observed the manner in which education was being delivered as well as intently listened to numerous leaders and educators. In the evenings, we rendered by hand every piece of new furniture for this amazing project eventually meeting the school requirements to save $400,000 from the budget while not sacrificing function, safety or quality.
